DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on March 14, 2005 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 1,3-8, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Specifically, the claims are rejected for the following reasons:

To what structure does "an interior and entrance" refer?

The preambles of claims 3-8 and 12 are inconsistent with the preamble of claim 1.

Dependent claims not specifically mentioned are rejected as depending from rejected base claims since they inherently contain the same deficiencies therein.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 1,2-10, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the prior art container illustrated in figures 1 and 2 of the instant application.

The prior art assembly teaches all but the claimed shape of the sealing element.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the sealing element with a coupling feature on a face of the endless portion and a flexible, obliquely protruding portion projecting from a peripheral portion of the endless portion, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the shape of a component. A change in shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Providing the projecting portion obliquely allows for more surface contact between that portion of the sealing element and the associated container or lid (or fitted element and fitting element).

With regard to claim 9, additionally tapering the protruding part from the proximal part toward the distal end allows more flexibility of the protruding portion to bend, thus, forming a better seal as is evidence by the patents to Simm et al and Gueret.

Coupling portions in the form of ribs or projections are well known in the art as evidenced by Baldoni et al and Krampotich et al for providing a better sealing effect accommodating imperfections in the sealing surfaces and/or a better engagement of the endless portion within the fit-holding portion.

Regarding the direction curvature of the protruding portion, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the protruding portion to extend in an outward or inward direction most suitable for the desired fit between the associated lid and container body.

Regarding the size of the ribs, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to utilize ribs of differing sizes as evidence by Semon, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. To vary the size of the ribs allows for a greater sealing effect and better engagement of the endless portion within the fit-holding portion.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,3-10, and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Various prior art closures teaching features similar to those disclosed and/or claimed are cited for their disclosures.
7. In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, Group 3720 is encouraging FAXing of responses to Office Actions directly into the Group at (703) 872-9306. This practice may be used for filing papers not requiring a fee. It may also be used for filing papers which require a fee by applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account. Please identify the examiner and art unit at the top of your cover sheet. Papers submitted via FAX into Group 3720 will be promptly forwarded to the examiner.
8. It is called to applicant's attention that if a communication is faxed before the reply time has expired, applicant may submit the reply with a "Certificate of Facsimile" which merely asserts that the reply is being faxed on a given date. So faxed, before the period for reply has expired, the reply may be considered timely. A suggested format for a certificate follows:

I hereby certify that this correspondence for Application Serial No. _____ is being facsimiled to The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office via fax number (703) 872-9306 on the date shown below:
